

Dear Barbara,

In spite of the kidding, this Psy. + Ship. class has been loads of fun and you've been a good part of it. Good Luck Always.

Shirley Barbour "E"

Dear Barbara,
Don't guess it will be too hard to forget school all but can't forget all she said
me to in good remembers Davis & young class.
Love in love
Barbara
Jackson

Barbara,
It sure has been nice knowing you,
Lots of Luck
always.
Loui Morris

Dear Barbara,
Being in your English class is very much enjoyed.
stay as sweet as sugar.
are now always as you
Pat Davis
"Emerson"

Dear Barbara,
We've spent most of all year in Spanish together & we've had a lot of fun. Here's hoping I'll see more of you & best wishes & luck in your senior year.
your classmate
Ray Moore

Dear Barbara,
Here's to being your best friend & always engaged your friendship.
Good luck friend always

Barbara -
I think you are a real nice girl stay that way.

Barbara
I sure have enjoyed knowing you for 10 years
to come.
Louis Webb

Dear Barbara:
Well, she just knows you and year and say only didn't get to know you sooner. I hope you & Roy keep the old fire burning.
Love & kisses

Dear Bob,
He really been sweet knowing you for these many years (fun to be around) & hope will always be friends.
I wish you all the luck possible.
Love, Janner

Dear Barbara,
It's been nice being in Spanish with all these years (and I probably next year)
Good luck till I see you next year.
Carol Snelling

Dear Barbara,
I have really enjoyed knowing you all these years and I wish you the best of success in everything because I think you really deserve
it. Lots of luck
Mary Grace

Dear Barbara,
 I have really been swell this year. You are girl with a good person in E. S. year but you'll never win Best of luck.
 Harry

I've enjoyed being in your classes and hope to see you next year. Sincerely,
 Sally Hughes

- Dearest Barbara -

My only regrets toward the ending of school, are that some friendships must end.
 Sincere appreciation for a grand friendship. Remember, a sparkling personality and a winning smile can take a girl a long way.
 Don't get lost.
 your friend always

Foreword

IN A HALF century of rapid progress the Indian Territory oil camp of Tulsey Town has developed into metropolitan Tulsa, well named the Magic Empire. The Oil Capital has not contented itself with becoming a leader in the petroleum industry only. It has built one of the largest and busiest air fields in the world, a water supply surpassed by few other cities, and paragons of art, culture, and education. To review these extensive achievements, the 1951 Tom Tom staff invites you on a

Dedication

WHEN OUR forefathers began the construction of Tulsa, they envisioned a city of industry, of towering buildings and stately churches, of well-kept parks and excellent educational opportunities. These builders would indeed be proud if they could see the results of their early efforts, for crude houses and rutty dirt roads have become beautiful homes and smoothly-paved streets. With gratitude for their idealism and foresight we of the 1951 yearbook staff dedicate this Tom Tom to the past, present, and future

Mighty Lawmakers

The Student Council started the school year on a note of friendliness by welcoming the incoming students and showing the newcomers over the building and by sponsoring a mixer after the Central-Rogers football game. To acquaint new students with the traditions and opportunities of Central, the Council published and distributed a student handbook, The Spirit of Central. Other Central items which were sold to the student body were new school pennants and plastic coat book covers.

Through the suggestion box and discussion in meetings many students contributed ideas for school improvement. Stress was placed on having committees grow out of these interests and on distributing opportunities for service and leadership to as many students as possible. All members were directed in parliamentary procedure.

Former successful projects repeated included the inventory and polishing of trophies and an effective PWIG (clean-up) campaign. A new project started was a contest among the three classes based on attendance at the home basketball games. The winning class each year is to have its name inscribed on a loving cup presented by the Student Council.

Central students also shared interest and fellowship with students of many other schools near and far. The Student Council took part in five outside assembly programs and sent representatives to four conventions—national, at Denver, Colorado; southern, at Oklahoma City; state, at Norman; and city, at Webster.

These delegates not only contributed variety to these meetings but also brought back to Central new ideas and a better understanding of the people and problems of their generation.

The officers were Jay Hunt, president; Lee Campbell, vice-president; Nancy Wallace, recording secretary; Max Deardorff, corresponding secretary; Sally Bevins, treasurer; Phil Elder, parliamentarian; and Dan Tucker, Margaret Fishback, Lee Young, and Dick Mason, interschool council representatives.

Tulsa Lochapoka-Town of the Turtling Place

Tulsa, Oklahoma, with its romantic history and amazing development is in many respects one of the most remarkable cities in America. As a city it is young, but as the dwelling of an organized citizenry it is quite old. The known history dates back to 1836 when the first authenticated citizen to move into the incorporated city of Tulsa came here from Georgia.

This first citizen was Yahola, a Creek Indian, who became king or chief of the town of Tulsa Lochapoka. At Yahola's death in 1850, he was succeeded by his brother, Che-ya-ha, who was killed while serving as a captain in the Civil War.

These kings or town chiefs formed the House of Kings, which shaped its constitution after the government of the Creek Nation. There were forty-seven kings in the House of Kings, each representing a Tulsa or Talsi, the Creek word meaning township. Tulsa Lochapoka, Town of the Turtling Place, was brought with the Creeks from Alabama.

In the fifty-four years that intervened between the settling of the country in 1828 by the first contingent of Creeks and the coming of the first railroad to Tulsey Town in August, 1882, the little village slept in embryo. Fugitives from justice and renegades under a frontier truce made Tulsey Town their headquarters from time to time, although there were a few fine characters who had much to do with Tulsa's beginning.

Tulsa became officially connected with the rest of the United States in 1878 by the establishment of a Star Main Route from Muskogee. The post office here was in the home of George Perryman, prominent cattle man who controlled thousands of acres to the south of Tulsa, which was the north line of the Creek nation. The first town site survey was made in 1900. The period between that date and 1905 was like that of any old Indian Territory village.

In 1905 oil was discovered at Red Fork, just across the Arkansas River. The Arkansas River was bridged, and Tulsa began to bid for the oil man's business. Railroads were built into the city. The business men became prosperous, and capital was attracted to the new oil center because of a chance to make a considerable profit on a small investment. Hotels, office buildings, stores, banks, supply houses, machine shops, and refineries were established and became permanent institutions. Churches, schools, water supply, sewer system, paved streets, and all the other necessities of modern living followed industry.

The population has increased from 18,182 in 1910, to 180,568 in 1951. Thus Tulsa has grown from a tiny Creek village to a modern metropolis in a little over a century.

The Last Stop

Well, three more years are gone, and Central has graduated another class. We came into Central in 1948, probably the most enthusiastic class the school has seen in a long time. Our enthusiasm was displayed when we set a record in selling tickets to our sophomore class play Meet Me in St. Louis, which starred Lee Campbell and Forest Ralph. Under the direction of Miss Gertrude Rector, our class adviser, and cabinet—David James, president; Richard Walsh, vice president; Rex Blakemore, secretary, and Jay Hunt, treasurer—we soared to new heights.

During the following year we juniors got a taste of what our senior year held for us with the selection of our rings and pins. Through the year Miss Ednamay Weeks, our class adviser, was always ready to give us a helping hand. Leading our class through its activities were Jim Metzger, president; John Fields, vice president; Marilyn Caldwell, secretary; and Jerry Dunn, treasurer. Marianne Bremer and Bill Winchester headed the cast of twenty-two which put on the class play Once and For All. With this behind us we prepared for our senior year.

The climax of eleven years work came when in the fall of 1950 we began what we thought to be our easiest and last year. Miss Ednamay Weeks remained our class adviser, and with John Fields, president; Lee Martin, vice president; Peggy Rowland, secretary; and Bill McMurry, treasurer; we continued through our many activities. All were pleased with the senior play Cheaper by the Dozen, which starred John Fields and Carolyn Williams. Marcia Lorenz was chosen Miss Central High XXX, Central's football queen.

Kris Kringle himself came to the senior Christmas party, bringing thanks from the children of the western sector of Berlin for the toys contributed by the senior class.

Following the Christmas vacation the busiest part of the year came with the Daze, Ritz Week, and KVOO Day.

Like all good things though, the senior year came to an end with the farewell assembly, the breakfast at Mohawk, vespers service, and commencement.

With the close of this year we, the seniors, have taken our last tour of Central and are looking forward to the greater roads of life.

Steep Hill

Under the capable guidance of Miss Lulu B. Beckington, the class adviser, the Class of '52 has completed a successful junior year.

The officers who were elected in the spring of their sophomore year were Lee Young, president; Jerry Greer, vice-president; Kay Herwig, secretary; Larry Greer, treasurer; and Joan McCracken and Dwain Tomberlin, representatives to Youth Incorporated.

The Juniors started early in the year with the first class play, Dear Ruth, which starred Evelyn Hourigan, Phil Elder, and Donna Moore. Promoting ticket sales for the play were the Moneybags and the Crackerjacks, the two class teams. The Crackerjacks came out victorious, with the Moneybags close behind. The supersalesmen of the class were Betty Lou Welker and Bob Nelson.

One of the outstanding Junior events of the year was a kiddie party, the Junior Post-Exam Jubilee, which was held January 20. Everyone dressed in his childhood best and paraded across the stage while the judges picked the most original, most clever, funniest, prettiest boy, toughest girl, and cutest boy and girl kids. King Kid, Travis Sullivan, and Queen Kiddie, Ruth Ann Montgomery, were elected from a selection of baby pictures, submitted by the home rooms. Entertainment for the program was furnished by members of the Junior homerooms. After the program King Kid and Queen Kiddie led a grand march to the gym for dancing, refreshments, and kid games.

Two members of the class deserve special recognition—Donna Moore, who won third prize in the Thrift Essay Contest, and Lyman Fretwell, who wrote the class song.

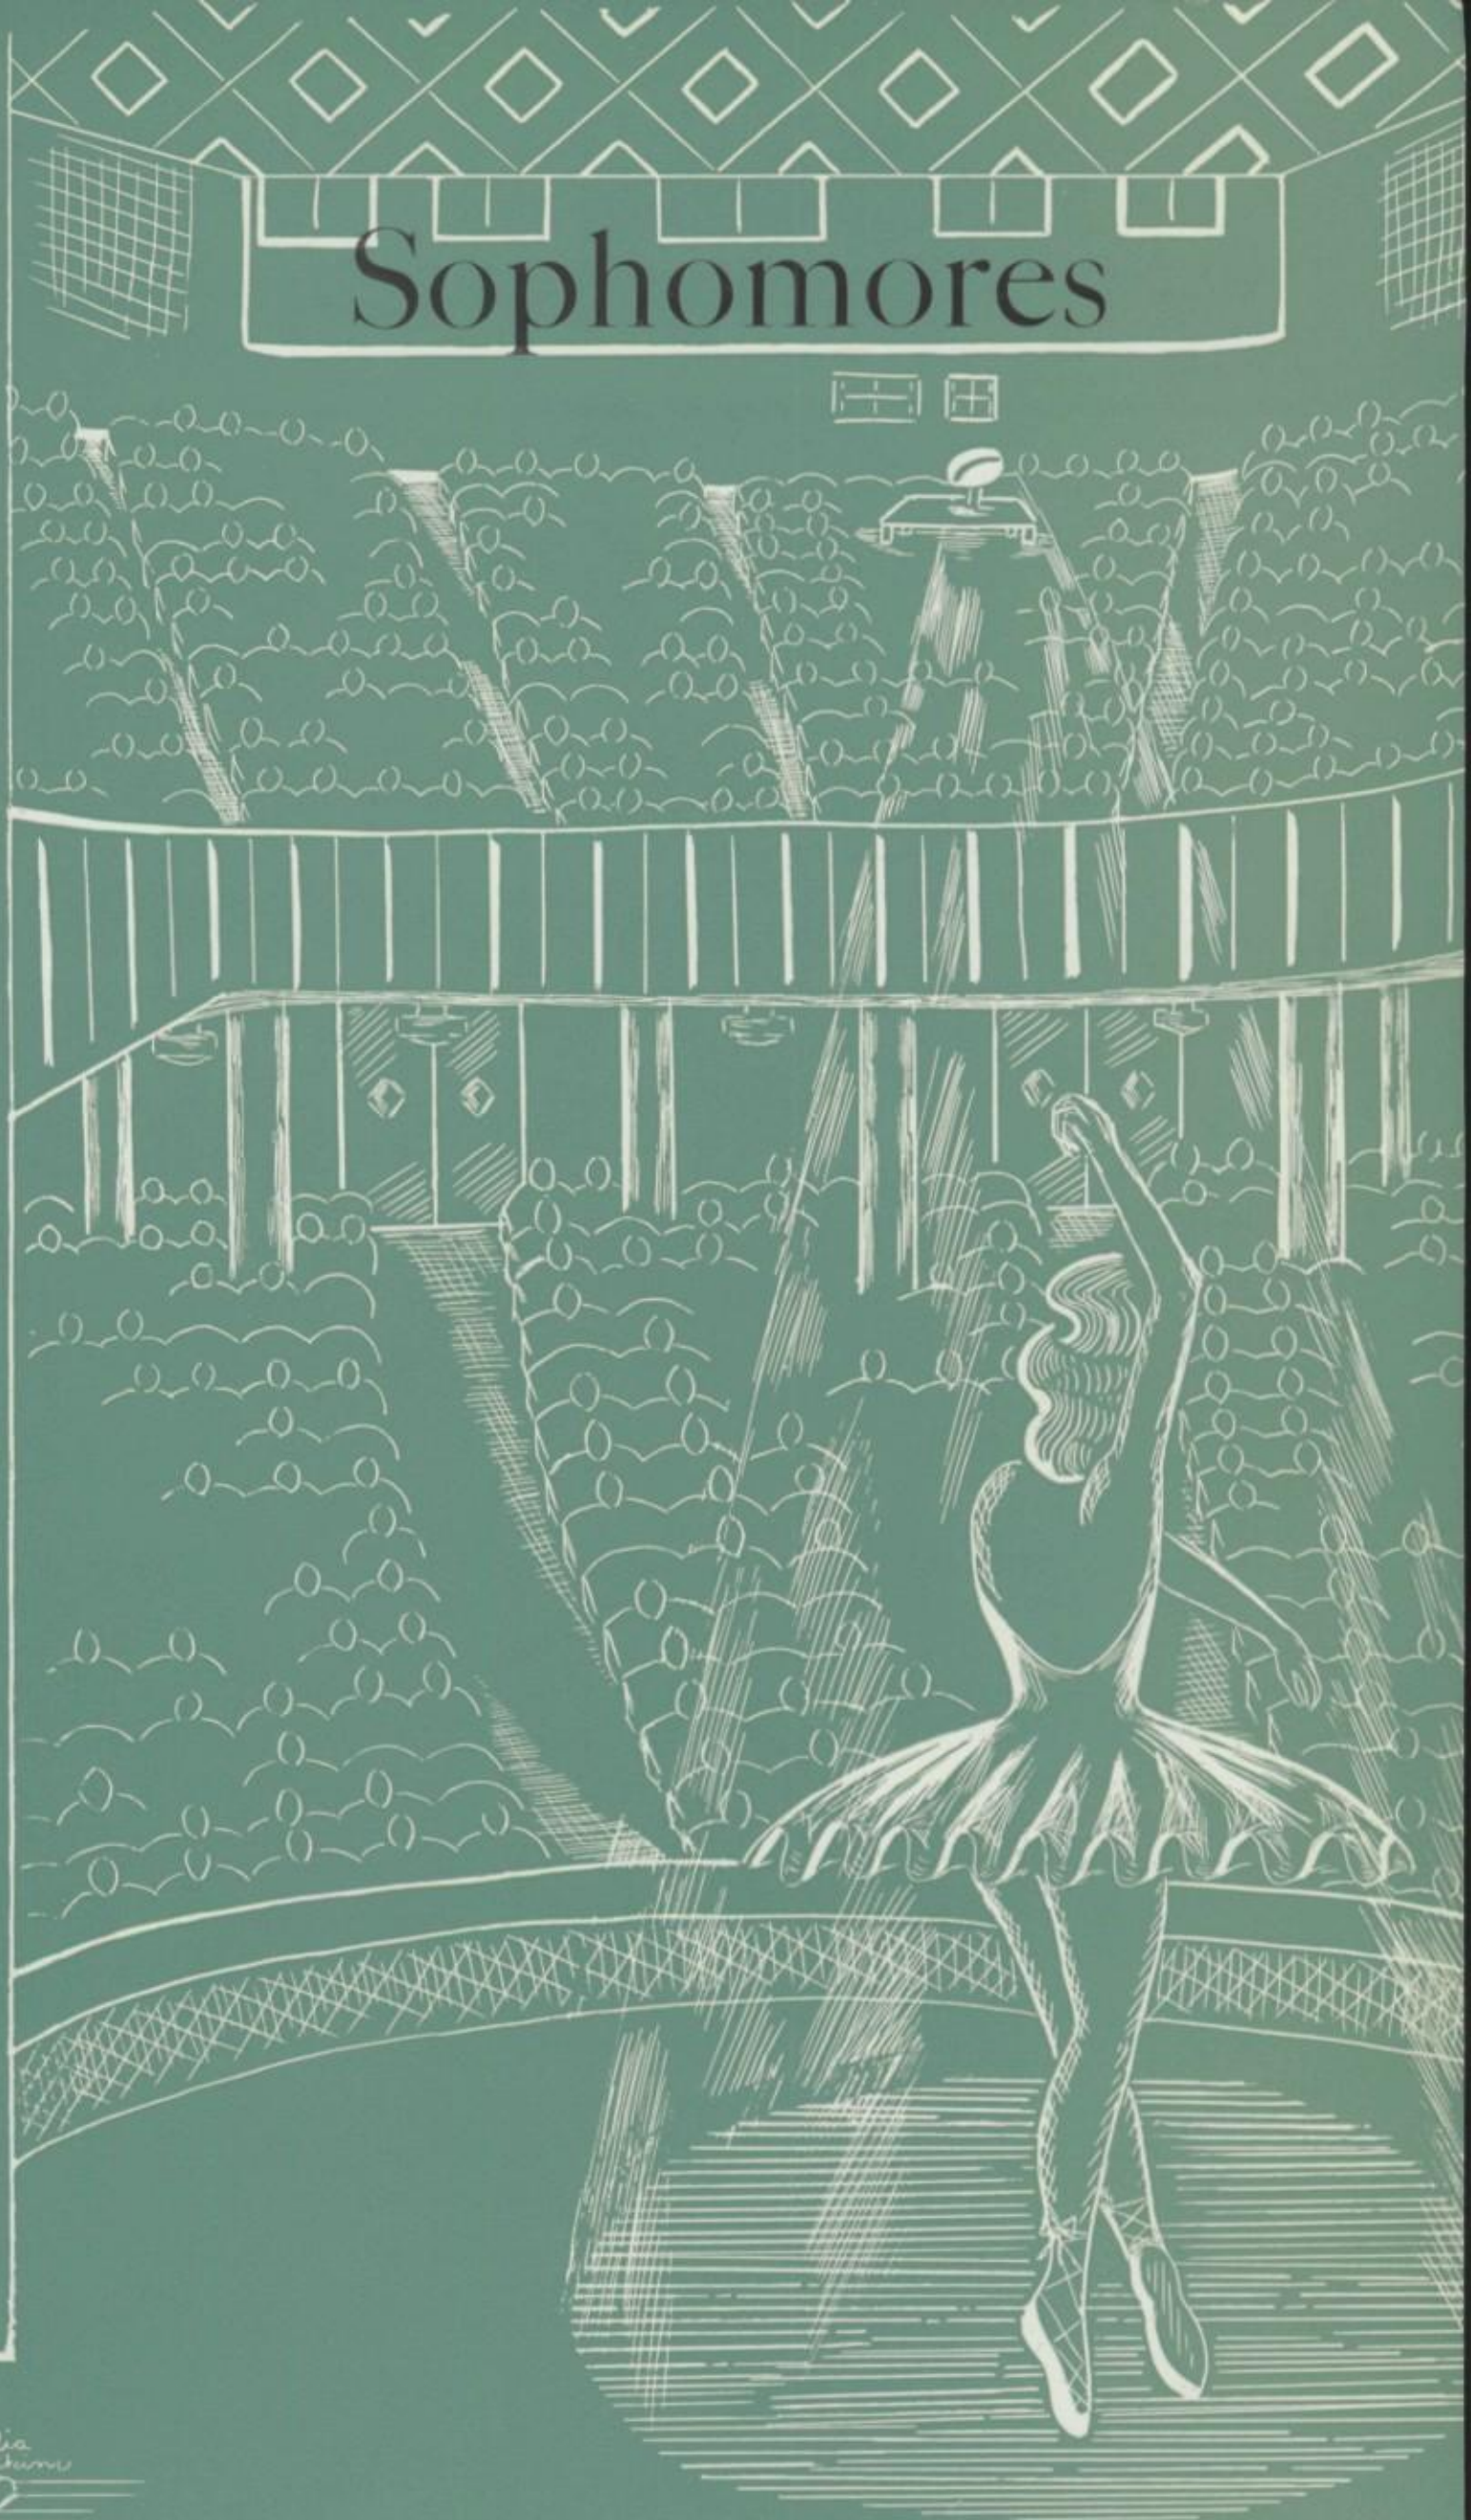

The junior queen's attendants were Shirley Adams, Pat Campbell, and Barbara Love.

An event reserved for Juniors only is the selection of senior rings. The pin and ring committee selected three styles for the class to vote upon.

With the year over the Juniors of '51 are now ready to be the Seniors of '52.

All Aboard

When the sophomore class of 1951 invaded the halls of Central, they boasted having the largest number of students in ten years.

The first class project was the Sophomore Mixer, sponsored by the Hi-Y and Keystoner clubs, on October 25 at the new Student Activities Building on the University of Tulsa campus. The music was furnished by the Daze Band and the entertainment by the talented members of the class.

Miss Gertrude Rector led the class as their adviser. Assisting her were Bob Wyatt, president; Don Staires, vice president; Darlene Norman, secretary; Jay Brothers, treasurer.

Representing the class in beauty were Courtenay Heard, Nancy Copeland, and Barbara Townsley, queen's attendants.

Recognition came to another member of the class, Jay Brothers, who was the only sophomore to receive a T in football.

Miss Rector, Miss Alphild Larson, and the class cabinet selected The Inner Willy as the class play. The leading roles of Willoughby Adams and Carol Martin were portrayed by Bob Markley and Virginia Jones.

The sophomore class led the school in most of the ticket sales. They also took an active part in other school activities, including the opera and the Daze.

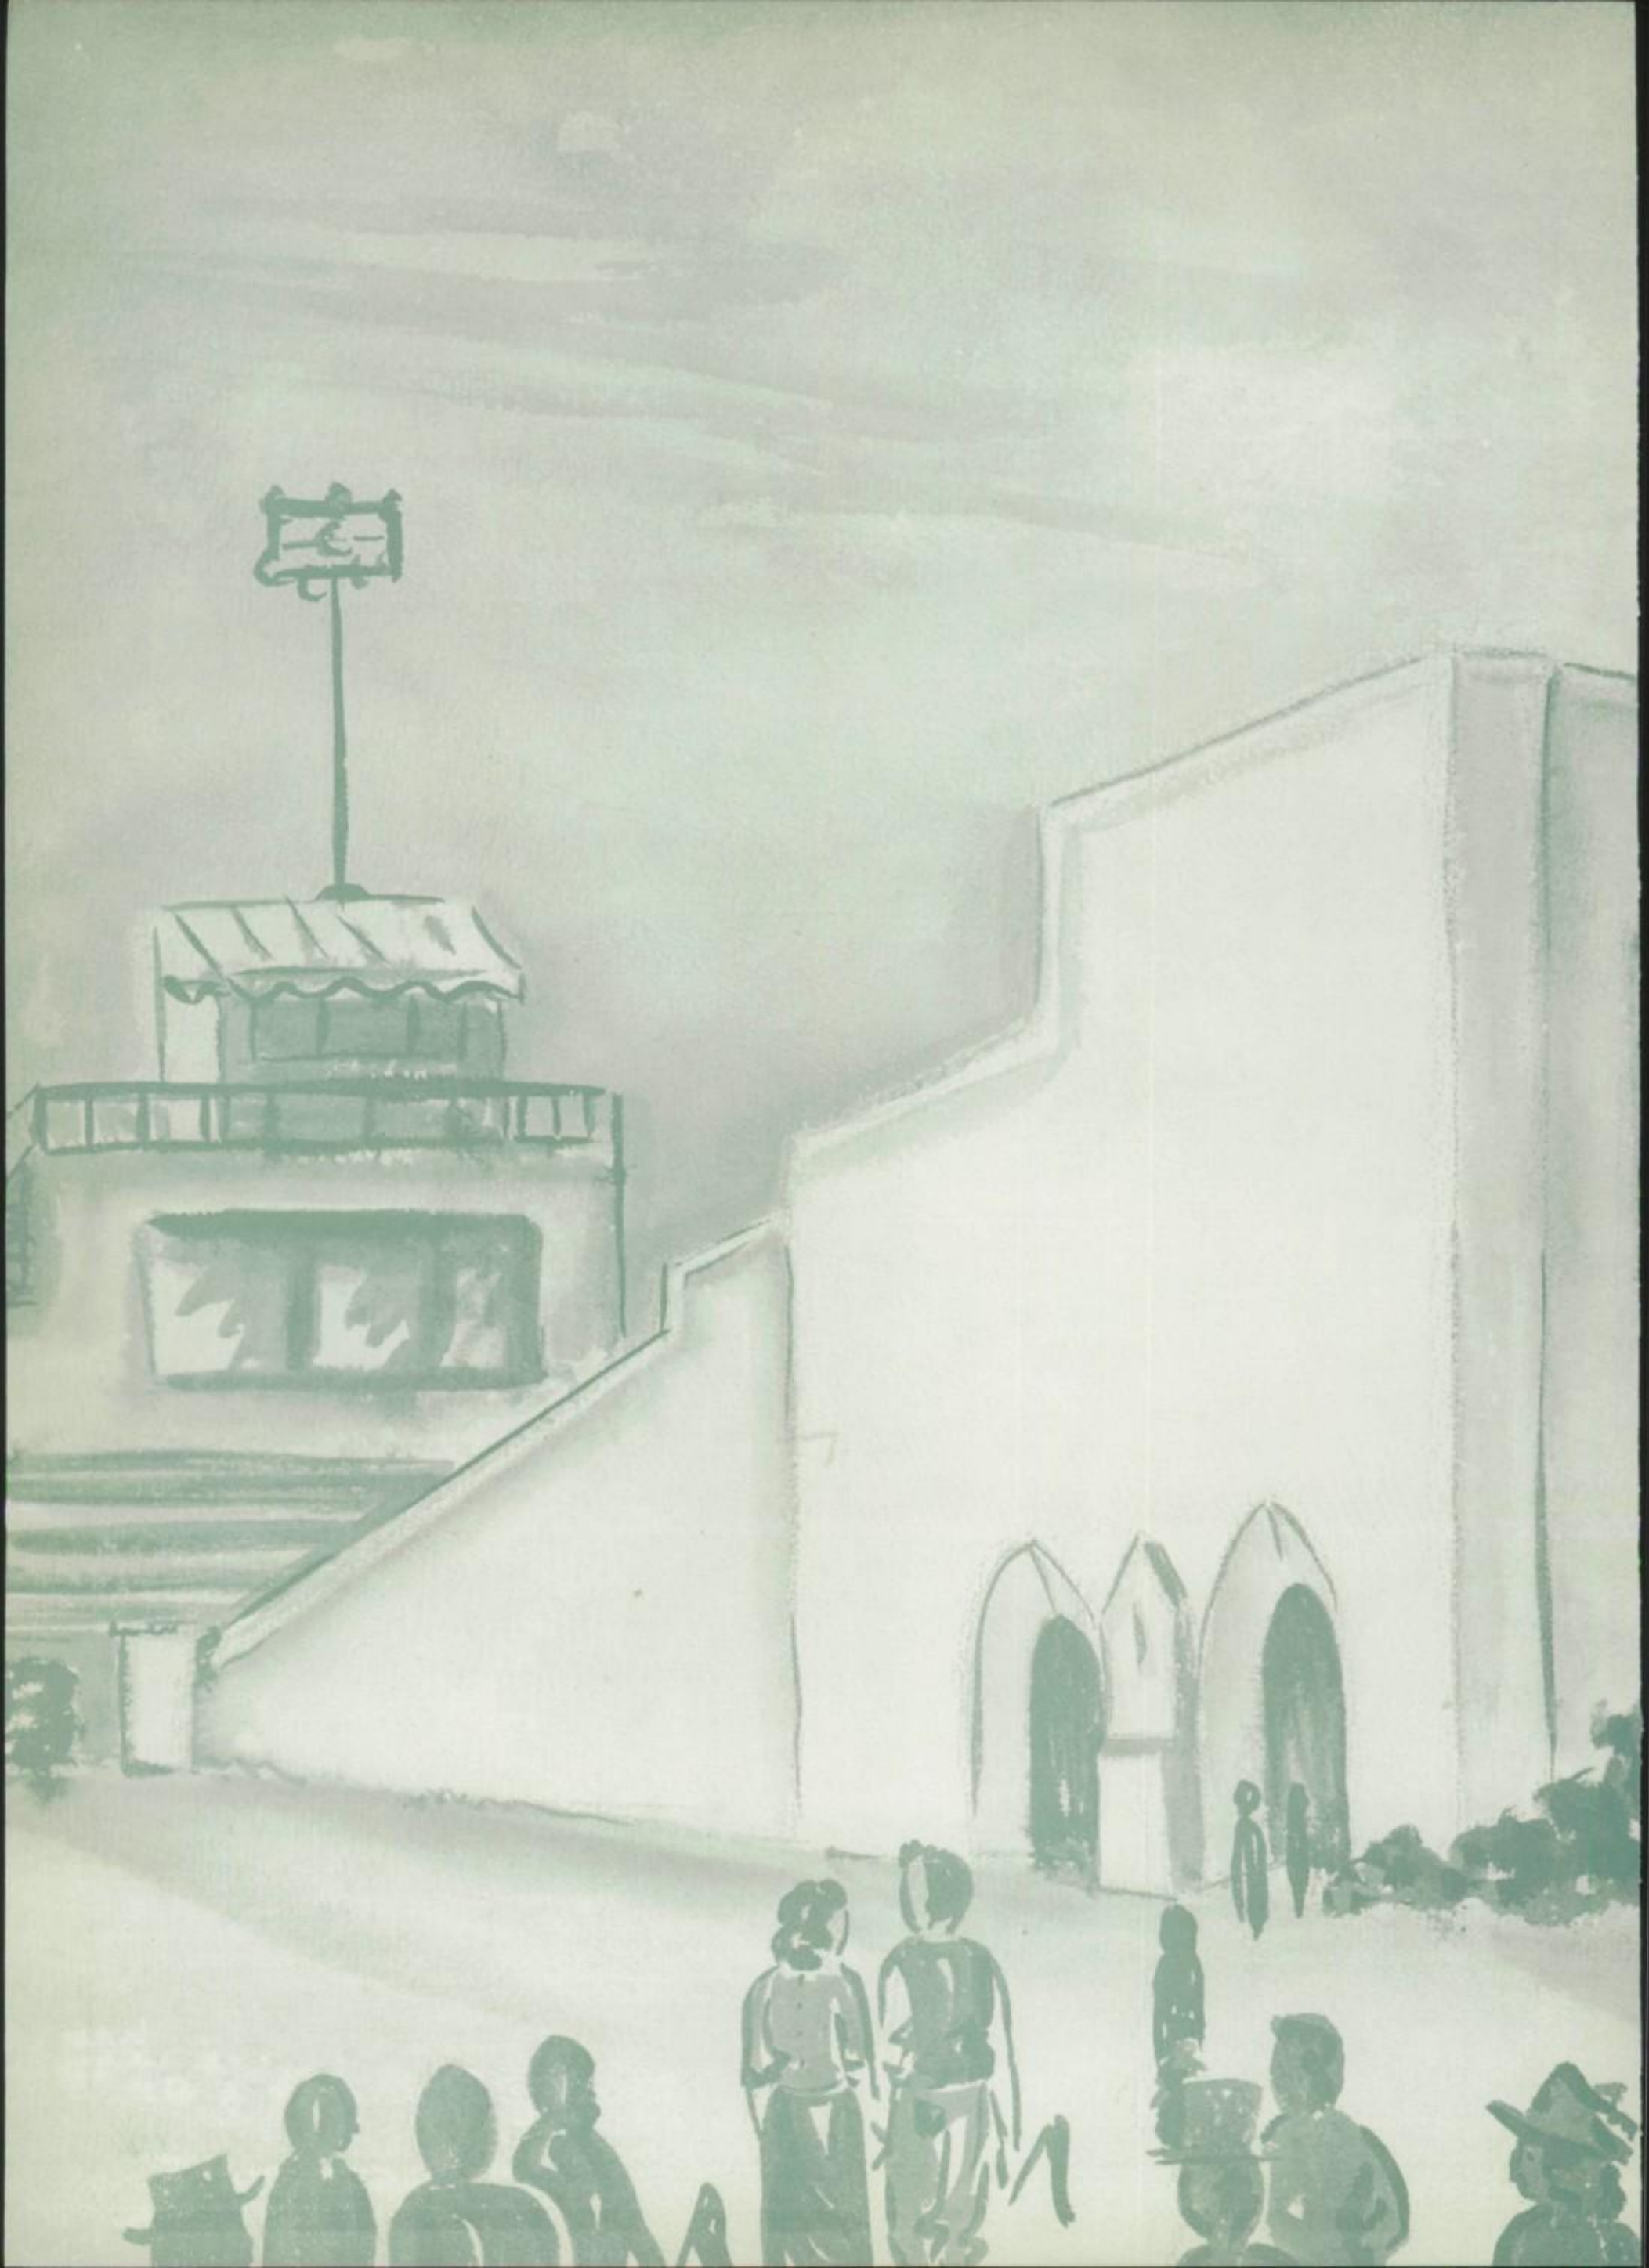

Thus the Class of 1953 made an excellent start on their three year journey through Central High School.

First and Goal to Go

Outmanned, the 1950 Central football team had an unimpressive record, but opponents, officials, and fans held the highest respect for the fighting Braves. With only three lettermen and a handful of reserves returning from the 1949 team, Coach Melvin E. Riggs and his assistants began work with the squad late in August. The team showed vast improvement with most of the personnel having only B team experience.

The Braves opened the season against a rugged Bartlesville eleven. The Wildcats unveiled an effective aerial attack which was too much for the inexperienced Braves. Central went down fighting 19-13.

Next was the annual intra-city battle with the Rogers Ropers. Playing inspired ball, the Braves held the Ropers to a scoreless deadlock in the first half. After the intermission a long kick-off return broke the game wide open. Final score: Rogers 14, Central 0.

The team traveled to Fort Smith, Arkansas, for a game with the Fort Smith Grizzlies. Central had a battle on their hands from the opening gun. The speedy Grizzlies quickly turned an apparent defeat into a 25-13 victory.

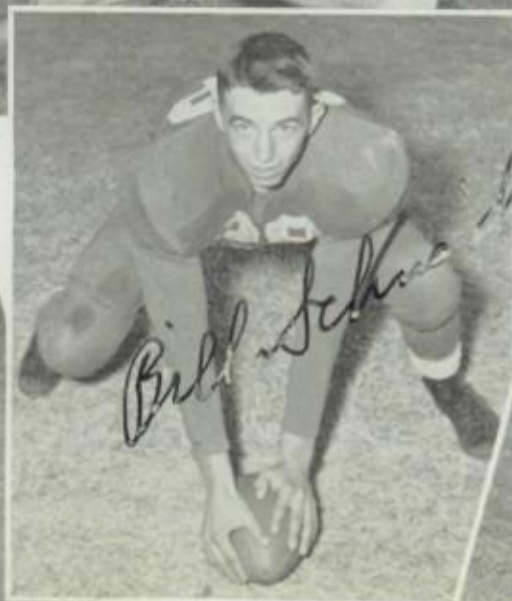

Central faced their cross town rivals, the Webster Warriors, in their next game. The Warriors, given a real chance to beat Central, were inspired. By playing steady ball, Webster won 12-6.

Carrying a 0-4 record into the Stillwater game, the Braves were given little chance against the undefeated Pioneers. When the Braves arrived in Stillwater, they were determined not to be kicked around. The score at the half was 6-6, and the Braves stormed onto the field determined not to leave it a loser. The big break came when Jay Brothers shot an 8-yard pass to Tom Askew, who with the help of a key block, was sprung loose down the sidelines. Askew went over standing up, and Central held on to win a cherished 12-6 victory.

The Braves met a good team at Okmulgee. The game was a see-saw battle with the ball changing hands frequently. Final score: Central 7, Okmulgee 7.

Muskogee came to town, with what later proved to be the best team in the state. It was apparent from the game's outset that the score would be heavily in favor of Muskogee. The miserably outmanned Braves gave as good of an account of themselves as possible. Central took it on the chin, 48-13.

At Oklahoma City the O.C. Central team literally ran over Tulsa Central as the final score indicated, 34-14.

Thirty-six unhappy Braves left the Sapulpa gridiron, after absorbing a 33-4 licking, many never to sink their cleats in football turf again. This season remains a challenge to Dan Reed, Jerry Greer, Howard Arney, Jack Clear, and Jay Brothers, returning lettermen for next year.

The Central line was anchored by All-Oklahoma 6-A tackle, Ken Claxton. Fullback and line backer Bill Hawkins was named to the All-State team. Other lettermen were Bill Schneider, Mickey Wilborn, David James, Eddie Morris, Lee Martin, Harold Grammer, Tommy Askew, Bill Cotton, Dick Morris, Tom McDougal, Eddie Apple, Dale Covington, George Pratt, Arthur Crowley, Jack McKissick, Bob Looney, Roy Hannaford, Charley Howard, Gene Davis, and Kyle Goddard, manager.

Aggressive Matmen

A strong team of well-trained wrestlers represented Central on mats throughout the state during the 1951 season. The Braves were under the leadership of Coach Paul McDaniel for the first time and responded with an undefeated season, as well as third place in the state tournament.

Central opened the season on the road by defeating Perry, 21-13, and Classen, 24-10. In the first home match of the year Webster fell before the potent Braves, 19-14. A road match with a good Ponca City team was next on Central's slate, and the team knocked the Wildcats from the unbeaten ranks, 22-11. ord. Victories over Rogers, 23-13, and Stillwater, 35-3, kept the Braves' record clean.

The squad proved their dual meet superiority when they decisively defeated Webster in a return match, 25-10. It was during this match that undefeated Lee Martin aggravated a knee injury, which sidelined him for the rest of the season.

In the last dual match of the season our fighting team withstood a determined challenge of the Rogers Ropers to win, 17-16. Central held a slim one point lead preceding the heavyweight match, and it took Charles Bachtell's draw with Keith Kelley to cinch a victory, as well as an undefeated and untied season.

Central got off to a bad start in the beginning of the state tournament at Webster, as three Braves were eliminated after wrestling one match. When other members of the team were defeated in the semi-finals, the Braves had little chance of taking the team championship. Central's only state champion was captain Bill Hawkins at 154. Although faced with defeat, the team braced and won enough consolation matches to finish in third place. Fred Davis was runner-up at 127 pounds. Jerry Haynes at 112, and Charles Bachtell, heavyweight, won third place honors. Fourth place finishers were John Fields at 120, and Lee Young at 133.

The team voted the wrestling citizenship award to Jerry Haynes and selected Bill Hawkins as honorary captain to end a successful season.

Graduating lettermen were Donald McAdams, Jerry Haynes, Jimmy Green, John Fields, Tom McDougal, Lee Martin, Richard Wood, Bill Hawkins, Charles Bachtell, and Bob Looney. John Lanning, Fred Davis, Phil Burnaman, Lee Young, and Kenneth Ellis will return for next season.

Hardwood Hustlers

The Oklahoma City Municipal Auditorium clock registered less than a dozen seconds left when the Shawnee Wolves raced into the lead and held on for a 40-37 victory. Thus another colorful page in Central basketball history was written. This loss at the hands of the state champions was only the sixth of the season, and the team deserves the respect and praise which their record demands.

Included in their impressive string of seventeen victories were two tournament championships. Puzzled at what to give their coach for Christmas, the Braves simply wrapped up the first place trophy of the Rogers Invitational Tournament. No other gift would have pleased Mr. Clarence Ehlers more.

The team took their bumps in early season losses to Rogers and Webster. As the season wore on, they gained confidence and determination. It took a Webster free throw in the waning seconds to snap the Braves' nine game winning streak.

Central was really ready for the regional tournament as their performances testify. Highlight of the tourney was Central's 67-49 victory over Rogers. The season's high scorer, Tom Askew, garnered 22 points. Turning in another superb performance in the finals with a decisive victory over the Sand Springs Sandites, Central was crowned regional champion.

The lettermen were Tom Askew, Ernie Stewart, Frank Morrow, and Charlie Archambo, seniors; Joe Kile and Warren Godwin, juniors.

Distance Champs

Winning the state championship for the third consecutive year enabled the cross country team to retire the state trophy. Any team must have a winning streak for three consecutive years in order to keep this trophy.

Proving that Central ranked among the best cross country teams in the state, they left the

A. & M. Quadrangular Meet with an impressive victory over some of the best teams in the state. Coached by Mr. William C. Lantz, the Braves continued this record and completed their season without facing defeat by any team in Oklahoma. The team was led by Murrel Pell, who finished second in the State Meet at Norman.

The lettermen were Don Dean, Jerry Dunn, George De Shazo, John Gotcher, Norman Hartness, Jack Johnson, Dick Stutsman, Jack Warren, Bob Whitenack, and Murrel Pell. These boys can well be proud of their impressive record. Those who will be back next year to defend the state championship will be Dean, De Shazo, Hartness, Stutsman, and Warren.

Diamond Dusters

The brilliant record of the 1950 Central baseball team was marred only by a single loss to Sapulpa. In his initial year at the helm Coach Clyde Charvoz piloted the Braves to the state championship.

This early season loss had a telling effect on the team, for it was the only time the Brave bats were silenced all season. The Braves behind Charlie Fisher played great ball and shut out Rogers 8-0. Central then rolled on by timely hitting backed up with air tight pitching.

The team won all three regional games handily. Although they routed Okmulgee in the state playoffs, they met tough opposition in Enid and Ada. The difference was strong team hitting and steady pitching.

Positions on the all state team were awarded to shortstop and captain, Jerry Coody, and pitcher, Charlie Fisher. The most valuable player award of the North-South All-Star game went to Central's ace, Fisher.

The graduating lettermen were Jerry Culver, Bob Crust, Jim Bailey, Jerry Coody, Charlie Fisher, and Thompson Keenan. Eddie Apple, Melton Lairmore, George Pratt, Charles Howard, Sammy Meason, Harold Grammer, Dick Morris, Bill Fortney, and Kyle Goddard, manager, returned for the 1951 season.

Terrors of the Fairways

The 1950 golf team came through with the most impressive record of any team in the state. Winning all of their nine dual meets, they also placed first in the conference and state meets with the four man team. Leading the Braves in their competition was Bobby Ellis, who was medalist for Central in the state meet with 80-75-77-232. Under the leadership of Coach Melvin E. Riggs the squad was first in conference by 28 strokes and first in state by 21 strokes.

Lettermen for the 1950 season were Jim Lewis, Bob Ellis, Charles Ellis, and Fred Lawson. The only returning lettermen for the 1951 season was Fred Lawson.

During the Christmas holidays the prospective 1951 team members started ranking for positions. The eight boys who came through this elimination were Dolph Bridgewater, senior; Bennie Pell, Fred Lawson, and Jimmy Chestnut, juniors; and Ralph Baker, J. T. Beams, Bill Parker, and Dick Cory, sophomores.

Various Tulsa fairways were used for practice and for meets. On Monday the Brave golfers used the Tulsa Country Club; on Tuesday the Highland Golf Course; on Wednesday the McFarlin Golf Club and the Southern Hills Country Club; on Thursday the Mohawk Golf Course; and on Friday the Oaks Country Club.

Racketeers

The 1950 tennis team finished a successful season winning all of their dual matches and ranking high in all other meets.

Under the guidance of Coach Clarence Ehlers, the Braves defeated teams from Will Rogers, Muskogee, Bartlesville, and Cascia Hall high schools.

At the Oklahoma University Invitational meet, Tom Higgins placed second in singles, while David Glass and Mickey Wilson took second place in doubles. In the Oklahoma Six Conference meet, Jim Metzger reached the finals and Tom Higgins played in the semi-finals. Higgins was also runner-up in singles in the State Meet at Norman, with David Glass and Mickey Wilson placing second in doubles.

The seven lettermen—Kneel Ball, David Glass, Tom Higgins, John Martin, Jim Metzger, Tom Parker, and Mickey Wilson—can well be proud of their achievements this year. John Martin, and Jim Metzger were the only lettermen to return for the 1951 season.

Cinder Sizzlers

With only two lettermen, Charles Roller and Roscoe Vrooman, to start the season the 1950 track team, coached by Mr. William C. Lantz, came through with a remarkable record of performance.

Of the nine meets on schedule Central won with five first places, three seconds, and one fifth. Competing against the best teams in many years Central captured first at the Ada, Okmulgee, Regionals, City, and Rogers Dual meets.

In the state meet the Braves placed second to retain their outstanding record of being in the top three teams of Oklahoma for 24 years. State champions were George Gilmour in the mile and Roscoe Vrooman in the high jump.

Besides George and Roscoe other lettermen for the 1950 season were Bob Anderson, Jerry Bayless, Jack Darrough, Ellsworth Hales, Jerry Long, Bob Looney, Jim Miller, Murrell Pell, Verl Philliber, Dan Reed, Charles Roller, Ken Southard, Pat Samter, Don Wagner, Charles Young, and Bennie Zuniga. Darrough, Looney, Pell, Philliber, Reed, and Samter returned for the 1951 season.

Operation B. L.

Promoting the activities that pertain to the welfare of the boys at Central High School was the idea of Mr. Lieb Richmond, assistant principal, when he organized the Boys' League two years ago.

Every boy in school belongs to Boys' League, but the governing body is made up of a group of delegates. Each home room elects one boy as its representative.

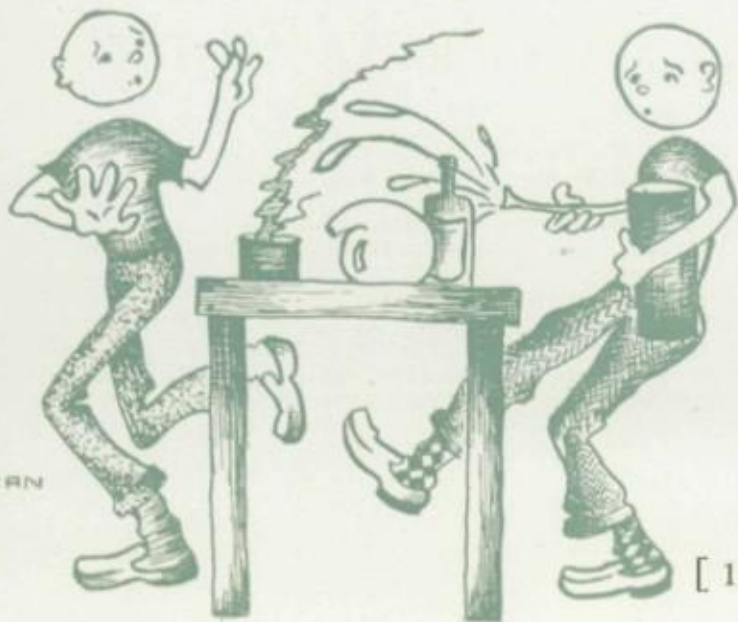

Special orientation assemblies were presented to the sophomores, 579 strong, to acquaint them with the activities around the school that are available to them. The 491 juniors received wide information concerning possible vocational opportunities. Specific problems confronting boys going out into world, either in the business fields or in the armed forces, were worked out with the 428 seniors.

The boys who composed the senior cabinet were Kenneth Claxton, president; Dick Morris, vice-president; Elmo Whitehead, secretary; and Bill McMurry, treasurer. The juniors were led by Phil Burnaman, president; Dick Mason, vice-president; Larry McCord, secretary; and Greg Hosterman, treasurer. The sophomore cabinet included Don Staires, president; Bob Wyatt, vice-president; Rodney Martin, secretary; and Harry Hoag, treasurer.

Furnishing the leaders for the annual Christmas parade, sponsored by the Tulsa merchants, was one of the special projects of the year.

GIRLS' LEAGUE CABINET

Operation G. L.

The girls' League under the direction of Mrs. Minnie May Summers has done much to promote friendliness and cooperation among the girls of Central. By their united effort enough money was collected to support Mario Lini, a young Italian war refugee, for the second year. In November the delegates collected money for the Babies' Milk Fund.

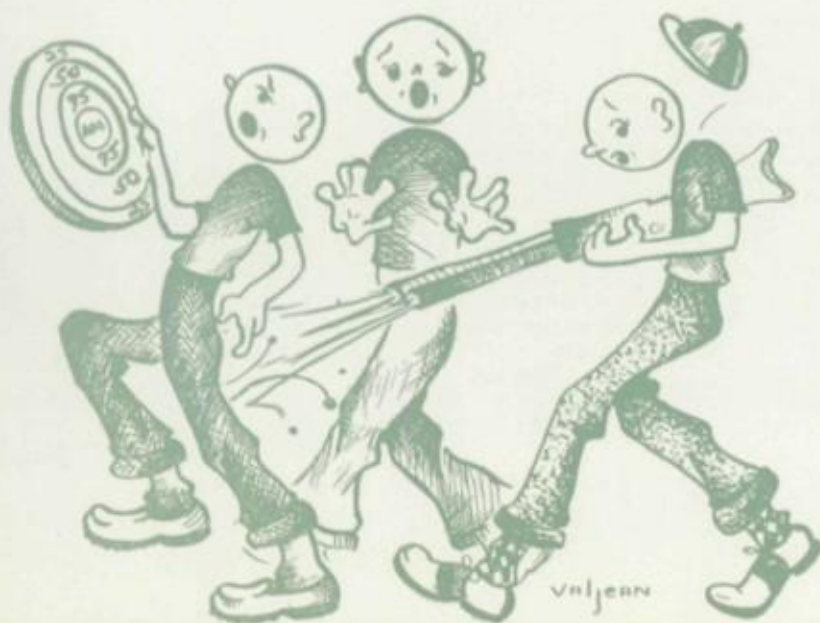

An interest in state and national government was stimulated during the first Girls' League assembly when Carol Hockenson and Sarah Ann Smith told of their visit to Girls' State. In January further interest in citizenship was inspired when Peggy Rowland was awarded the D.A.R. citizenship award. Good international relations were promoted by a special program given by the foreign students.

One of the most popular assemblies was the style show presented in April by the girls in sewing classes. This program is an annual affair during Home Economy Week.

Officers of the Girls' League were the following: Sophomores: Carole Shaw, president; Marilyn Ellington, vice-president; Sally Bish, secretary; and Ann Holdren, treasurer. Juniors: Kaye Creekmore, president; Judy McDaniels, vice-president; Shirley Adams, secretary; and Peggy Moore, treasurer. Seniors: Billie Rowland, president; Sax Harrison, vice-president; Marcia Millikan, secretary; and Katherine Kerr, treasurer.

Vim and Vigor

This year at all football and basketball games the Scalpers were making more noise than ever before. The reason behind all this noise was the new all time high of two hundred fifty members in the boys' pep organization.

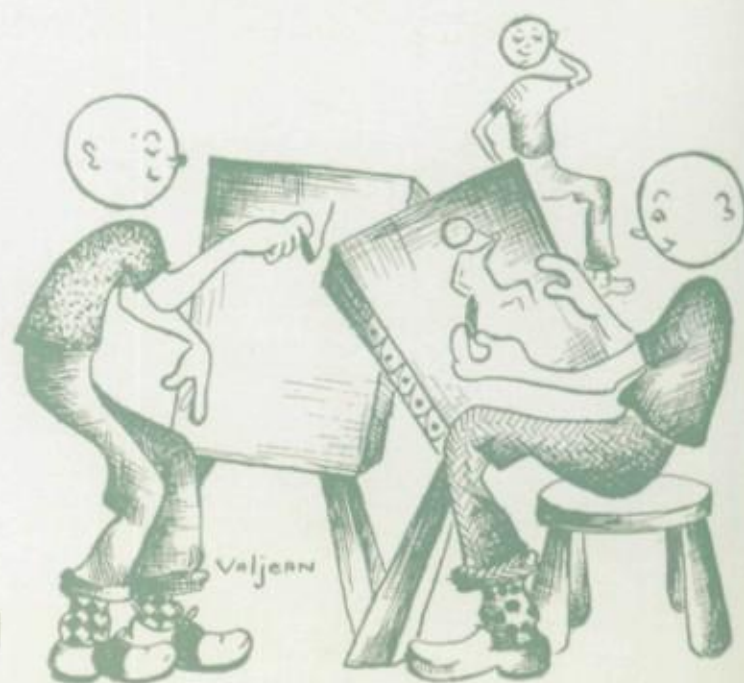

Leading the group was Louis Shea with King Schwarz as vice-president. Pat Kelley served as secretary and Glenn Kindle as treasurer. Helping the boys yell louder were Jimmy Green, head cheerleader; Jerry Appelgate, senior cheerleader; George DeShazo and Bob Griffin, junior cheerleaders; Andy Duvall and Charles Schusterman, sophomore cheerleaders. Mr. Fred Broad-head and Mr. Ernest McHugh were the organization sponsors.

The boys worked hard to win points for emblems. They were given points for such things as ushering and attendance at meetings and athletic events. Ranks were given according to the number of merit points earned. A boy is ranked as a Warrior when he has fifty points, a Brave when he has one hundred points, and a Chief when he has two hundred points.

The Scalpers, besides supporting Central's teams, had other activities. After the Central-Webster game they joined with the Red Feathers to give the annual coronation dance for the football queen. They also performed their yearly duty of ushering at the Daze.

Brain and Brawn

Every other Thursday morning exclamations such as "You sure missed that free throw!" and "Who fumbled the ball?" could be heard in the vicinity of the Lettermen's Club meeting in room 427. This club, exclusive to those boys who have earned a letter in sixth hour sports, was sponsored by Mr. Grady Skillern, director of boys' athletics.

At their bi-weekly meetings the boys discussed current events in the sports world and were usually entertained by one or more of the various musical organizations at school. Members also had a chance to hear outstanding athletes and noted coaches speak on their favorite sport.

The purpose of this organization is to promote good sportsmanship among the boys and to encourage the support of all athletic events. Club officers included Bill Hawkins, president; Dick Morris, vice-president; and Eddie Apple, secretary-treasurer.

The annual picnic was given in the spring at Mohawk Park.

Pride and Pep

On Thursday mornings when the ceiling of your home room flew off, you probably weren't alarmed, for you knew it was just the Red Feathers raising the roof.

The Red Feather sponsors—Miss Ruth Draper, Miss Mary Katharine Winn, Miss Virginia Quesenbery, and Miss Madeleine McDonald—had their hands full with 904 girls, divided into 41 squads, under their supervision.

The squad leaders were chosen from many who filed at the first of the year. The annual contest to see which squads were to have their pictures in the Tom Tom was held again this year. The three winning squads were led by Sylvia Steen, Shirley Barbour, and Dorothy Halstead.

The girls elected all officers last spring except the two sophomore cheerleaders. Marcia Millikan served as president. Peggy Rowland, vice-president, assisted her. The minutes were taken by Lou DeWees, and Marilyn Caldwell kept track of the organization's money. Carol Zeligson was head cheerleader. Marianne Bremer, Ruth Ann Montgomery, Judy McDaniel, Shirlie Long, and Jodi Sheldon were the other cheerleaders.

This year a white jacket with the large red C.H.S. letters on it was made available to members.

At the coronation assembly the center sections of the auditorium were reserved for all Scalpers and Red Feathers in uniform. In honor of the football queen the Red Feathers and Scalpers had a dance in the Boys' Gym after the Central-Webster football game.

The Red Feathers in white sweaters and red skirts were at basketball and football games, as well as wrestling matches, cheering the Braves on to victory.

Gift of Gab

"My extemporaneous speech this morning will be—." There is a slight pause as the speaker reaches into a box and draws out a little slip of white paper, "—it will be 'What would I do if the United States were invaded by a foreign country?'" Does that sound like a rather difficult topic for a two minute speech?

To the members of Speakers' Bureau extemporaneous speeches are a common occurrence and one of the ways in which they get experience for public speaking.

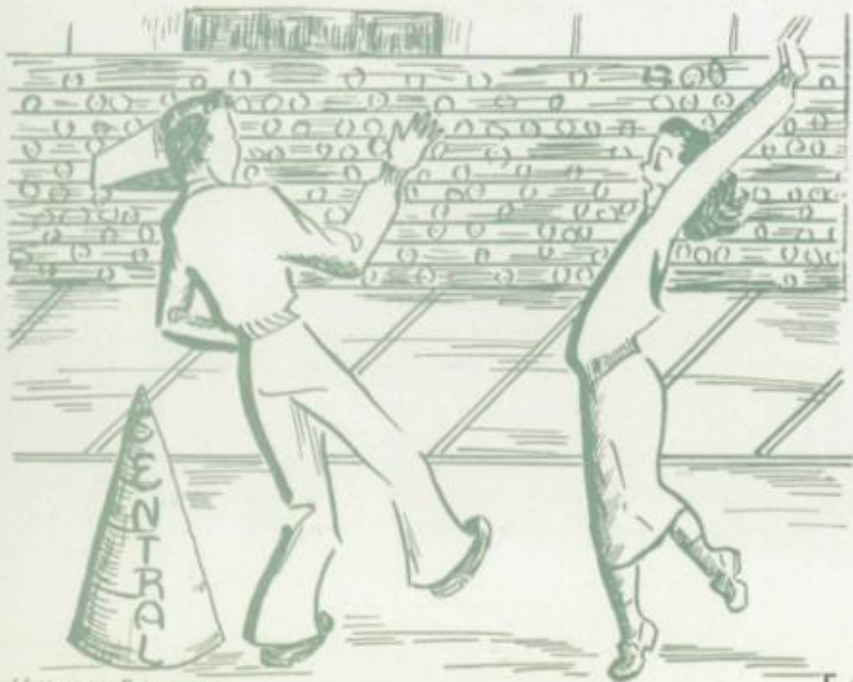

Outside of their meetings, which are held every other Monday and Tuesday morning from 8:15 to 9:15, they appear in many of the as-semblies, on civic club programs, and in the presentation of the Daze.

However, their activities are not all work and no play. Last fall when school was just under way, they had an outdoor picnic. As soon as the Christmas season started, they were right in the mood with a carolling party. The annual breakfast, which is always at Bishop's Restaurant, and another picnic for all the members completed their social activities in the spring.

Miss Alphild Larson, sponsor of the bureau, was assisted by the officers: Eddie Apple, president; Frank Stuart, vice-president; Patsy Wilson, recording secretary; Margaret Fishback, corresponding secretary; Phil Elder, treasurer; Larry McCord, sergeant-at-arms; and Newt Scott, program chairman.

Musical Marchers

"By now, you all know that 'my dog has fleas' is used to tune a ukulele, but do you know what is used to tune a bass drum?"

"That's right, The Thing: get out of here with that BOOM, BOOM, BOOM, and don't come back no more!"

Such was the conversation on the busses which carried the members of the Central Band on its three out-of-town trips to play at the Stillwater, Okmulgee, and Sapulpa games.

Officers which helped Mr. Clarence F. Gates, director, keep order on these trips were Jerry Zink, captain; Walter Moore, lieutenant; J. W. Riddle, top sergeant; and Loye Crowe, chief rank corporal. Councilmen were Mary Alice Roberts, senior; Bob Holland, junior; and Bill Johnson, sophomore.

Carolyn Mayfield, the eighth Queen of Central's Band, attended by Barbara Love and Shirley Adams, was crowned during half-time at the Muskogee game. The drum major was Walter Moore, and Alice Woodworth, Willene Kahn, Ettamarie Wilson, and Patsy Stowell were the twirlers.

Living up to its name, the Central Marching Band took part in parades and football games. They also played on assemblies, both at Central and at the various junior highs. Many of the members attended Band Days held at colleges over Oklahoma.

On April 29 the Band gave its annual Sunday afternoon concert in the South Auditorium. The annual spring banquet wound up one of the Central bandsmen's busiest years.

Orchestral Variations

Looking back over the school year, the Central High School Orchestra can well be pleased with their notable record of performances. Under the direction of Mr. Clarence F. Gates, the orchestra, being in demand constantly, was continually kept busy playing for assemblies, speech arts and class plays, accompanying the opera, and preparing for their annual spring concerts.

In addition to these many activities the orchestra also participated in The Messiah, presented on the Sunday afternoon before Christmas, and in the Music Festival, an annual event produced in the Coliseum. Besides these performances of the orchestra as a whole, smaller groups of the orchestra performed before clubs, lodges, and church organizations. The orchestra was also invited to play at the Music Education National Conference in Oklahoma City.

The officers included president, Jane Benedict; vice-president, Katherine Kerr; and secretary-treasurer, Mary Ellen Fenn. Student Councilmen for the year were Gabrille Jones, senior; Alice Sue Morris, junior; Nancy Hotz, sophomore. George Gregory assisted Mr. Gates as the student director.

The social chairmen, Marcia Lorenz and Jan Arps, made plans for the annual fall picnic. A banquet and dance were given in the spring. To climax a year of activities that combined both work and play, many orchestra members attended the All-State Orchestra Clinic in Norman, where they were recognized as being from one of the best high school orchestras in the state.

talented group. One of the high points of the year for Tulsa music lovers was the presentation of Handel's The Messiah by the A Cappella choir and music groups from other Tulsa high schools.

Several churches had the pleasure of hearing the heavenly voices of the A Cappella choir. Among these were the First Presbyterian and Cincinnati Avenue Christian Churches.

Metropolitan Junior

Beginning another successful year, the Opera Club elected John Chambers, president; Jack Eddleman, vice president; Marilyn Caldwell, secretary; and Pope Economou, treasurer. Under the guidance of Mr. Raymond E. Light, director, they presented the Symphony of Freedom on the United Nations assemblies, Ballad for Americans on the annual Thanksgiving assemblies, and several productions for the Experimental Theater of the Air. They also took part in the annual presentation of The Messiah and the Spring Festival.

emphasis on giving talented soloists opportunities for expression in class work. Each semester Solo Days are held when students can present solos before the class.

The highlight of the year for every member was the presentation of the operetta Rose Marie by Friml-Stothart. The leads of Rose Marie and Jim Kenyon were played by Marilyn Caldwell and Mike Hollinger. Others in the cast included Jack Eddleman as Hard-boiled Herman, Grace Leon as "Lady" Jane, Bill Horry as Sergeant Malone of the Mounties, Marilyn Smith as Ethel, Lynn Bardo as Emile, Judy McDaniel as Wanda, Jerry Hursh as Black Eagle, and Jerry Webster as Edward Hawley.

Mike Hollinger and Marilyn Caldwell take the leading roles in Rose Marie.

ST. CECILIANS

Celestial Voices

Having fifty-three girls to look after is quite a job for Mr. Raymond Light, who is the director for the St. Cecilians.

The officers were Zoanne Mouton, president; Barbara Jones, vice-president; Barbara McDonald, secretary; Darlene Norman, treasurer; Sue McManemin, accompanist.

The St. Cecilians participated in The Messiah, various radio broadcasts over KOME, and the spring festival. They also appeared before various civic organizations and several junior high schools.

According to Mr. Light some of their favorite pieces were How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings, The Snow, and In a Persian Market. The club was divided into first and second sopranos and altos. This year as in the past the girls, dressed in many-colored gowns, took part in church programs and appeared before the assemblies of Central High School.

The girls strove daily to improve the quality and resonance of their voices.

FOURTH ROW: Clara Chenault, Mary Beth Taylor, Edwin Armstrong, Jerry D. Roberts, Raymond Covington, Carl Caughron, Jan Pottillo, Layman H. Jones, Kathryn Klenos.

Art Lovers

"Are you going with us to see the new group of paintings at the Quaker Art Gallery?" That question was heard many times this year among Club members. The Art Club, which is one of the newest organizations at Central, is for students who are interested in any phase of art work.

Pat Mayo held the honor of being the first president of the organization. The other officers on her cabinet were Philip Russell, vice-president; Nancy Bicking, secretary; Janice Kimmel, treasurer; Georgia Winton, reporter. The sponsor was Mr. Gibson Byrd, who was also new to Central this year.

The schedule of the club included many varied activities. The members toured the different art galleries of Tulsa Philbrook Art Center, The Thomas Gilcrease Foundation, and the Quaker Art Gallery. They also went on sketching trips. So that the members could learn more about art techniques several speakers were invited to address the group. The organization took time out from its work to have a party at Christmas time.

Competing against adults, Philip Russell, one of the officers, won honorable mention for his work in water color in the Tulsa County Artists' Exhibition.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Globe Watchers

The purpose of the International Club is to enable its members to gain a better knowledge and understanding of the many problems concerning international affairs and thus promote international friendship. They are aided in this project by various speakers who tell of their travels and experiences in foreign countries.

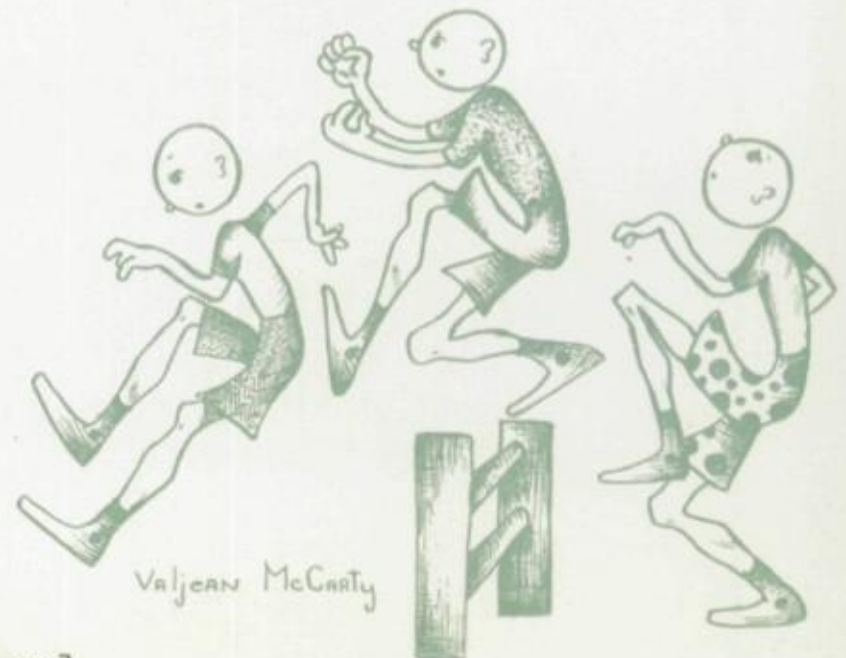

After a mixer which was held at the first of the year for the members to get to know each other, the club elected Sarah Ann Smith, president; Kathryne Klentos, vice-president; Philip Russell, secretary; and Wanda Griffin, treasurer. Miss Sara Coleman and Miss Corinne Blair were the sponsors.

Miss Corinne Blair points out places of interest she has visited in foreign countries to Philip Russell, Sarah Ann Smith, and Kathryne Klentos.

Under the excellent leadership of these officers the club has enjoyed many interesting activities. One of their worthy projects was selling homemade candy and cookies to raise money with which to buy books for foreign schools. At the U.N.E.S.C.O. convention which was held at Will Rogers High School in October, the club had charge of a panel entitled Growing Into Citizenship. All the members of the club participating on the panel were foreign students.

The members feel that by promoting an atmosphere of friendliness and understanding among students they are helping in the struggle for friendliness and understanding among nations of the world.

CAMARATA

Serviceable Lassies

"May I show you to your seat, please?" This sentence is a favorite one of the girls who are members of Camarata, an organization that takes care of the ushering duties at Central.

Camarata had two new sponsors this year. They were Mrs. Agnes Schellstede and Mrs. Mary Louise Simms. The officers who managed the organization were Elizabeth Roth, president; Nancy Wallace, vice-president; Shirley Hardy, secretary; and Marilyn Caldwell, treasurer.

The girls ushered at all school performances except the Daze. The performances included the sophomore, junior, and senior plays, the two speech art plays, the operetta, and The Messiah. They also assisted the lost parents at Back to School Night and the P.T.A. reception.

During the week preceding Mother's Day the members sold telegrams, which were sent on Mother's Day.

At the end of the year the girls who wished to be members next year filed applications. The members then voted on the applications. As the last event of the year a reception tea was held for the new members.

RED CROSS COUNCIL

A Helping Hand

"Meeting will please come to order. The first important business we have is the news that each home room is now 100 per cent in our membership drive.

With every home room participating, the Red Cross sent 150 gift boxes overseas. The council sponsored a Hallowe'en celebration at the Veterans' Hospital in Muskogee and entertainment for the polio ward at Hillcrest and the County Farm. Early in the spring the members collected money for magazine subscriptions to send to the Veterans' Hospital.

One of the highlights of the year was the annual Red Cross convention held at Webster, with all officers and council members attending.

After the death of Miss Lucile Witte, the club sponsor, Mrs. Susie Sunderland became the faculty supervisor.

Presiding over meetings, which were held every other Friday, was Jim Lear. Assisting him as vice-president was Bruce Jones. The other officers were Carolyn Williams, corresponding secretary; Mary Samaras, recording secretary; and Pope Economou, treasurer.

Bill Winchester, member of the council, was elected to the Midwestern Advisory Board.

RIFLE CLUB

Sharp Shooters

When the national emergency was declared, the President set up for civilian defense a plan which changed the procedure of the Rifle Club. Instead of shooting the regular matches with teams from other schools the boys qualified as junior instructors in the National Rifle Association.

To become an instructor of the local group, a boy had to achieve the rating of sharpshooter. The duties of these instructors are to train civilians on the safety features and the handling of a rifle.

Every Wednesday night at 7:30 the club met at the Central rifle range for target practice. Approximately sixty boys achieved the goal of sharpshooter, and along with Mr. Edward McCray, instructor, and Mr. Milton J. Johnston, sponsor, they did a great service to Tulsa in the training of men qualified to take over the duties of civil defense in time of national or local emergency.

The officers for the year were John DeVasher, president; John Owen, secretary; Charles Bertalot, treasurer; Frank Kattein and Jerry Whitney, range officers.

TOM TOM

FIRST ROW: Janet Martin, Carol Hockenson, Walthalene Robertson, Harriet Raney, Janice Kimmel, Marcella Poole, Nancy Howard. SECOND ROW: Joanne Carney, Jane McCullough, Susann Snyder, Barbara Shepherd, Joanne Jacoby, Shirley Barbour, Miss Ruth Holton, adviser. THIRD ROW: Mary Beth Taylor, Sylvia Steen, Jane Benedict, Sorrell Etkin, Valjean McCarty, Lou DeWees, Cornelia Watkins. FOURTH ROW: Mr. W. W. Graham, director of printing, Mr. Ralph Burcham, business adviser, Bob Probst, Oscar Kolb, Ted Waibel, Carl Caughron, Boyd Dunlap, Mr. D. Gibson Byrd, art adviser.

Persevering Annual Makers

Producing a yearbook is no easy task, as the eighteen members of Tom Tom staff will agree. During the first semester scheduling pictures, writing stories and captions, alphabetizing names, and assisting seniors in autographing their pictures kept the staff busy. For the first time sophomores and juniors had individual pictures.

The new art staff adviser, Mr. Gibson Byrd, guided his group in creating the drawings for this book.

Seventeen of the staff members attended the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association convention in Norman last October. Besides having a wonderful time, many valuable tips were received on producing a successful yearbook. The Tom Tom was awarded Highest Honors in Class A.

Mary Beth Taylor was elected editor and Jerry Buchanan, assistant editor. Remaining on the staff with them the second semester were Lou DeWees, business manager; Oscar Kolb and Robert Probst, photographers; and Jane Benedict, Carol Hockenson, and Boyd Dunlap, staff members. Miss Ruth Holton was the editorial adviser.

Although working on the Tom Tom took much hard work and responsibility, every staff member felt well repaid for his effort.

SCHOOL LIFE

Noses for News

Proofreading, typing, writing, headlining, covering newsbeats, and interviewing were just a few of the many tasks of busy School Life staff members. In order to get out the paper they devoted much extra time after school and on Saturdays when the editors from all three schools met.

Each week a group read the editorials and the features turned in and chose the best. Every Thursday morning the papers had to be counted for delivery to home rooms and the exchanges mailed.

Miss Ann Crotchett, adviser, directed the enthusiastic staff, headed by Tom Marnane, editor; Jean Simpson, assistant editor; Jan Perry, first

Jo Ann Mack mailed the exchanges to schools and alumni all over the world. Betty Abrams was in charge of advertising. Patsy Wilson, business manager, looked after the financial matters.

Each year School Life is entered in two national contests. The staff members attended the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association convention in Norman last October, and Journalism Day at the University of Tulsa in April.

Although writing the paper took much hard work, it was fun in itself, and the staff had the satisfaction of a job well done.

FOURTH ROW: Jack Eddleman, Phil Elder, Forest Ralph, Frank Morrow, Bill Winchester, John Chambers, Larry McCord.

The Play's the Thing

In the words of president Jack Eddleman, "The aim of Central's Thespian Society is to follow the national motto, 'To promote dramatic arts in the secondary schools.'"

The National Thespian Society, a comparatively new organization at Central, has been active for only four years.

The National Thespians are the backbone of theater and music activities at Central. Members have taken the leads and helped with make-up in class and speech arts plays. Many are active in Little Theater work and are often heard on Central's Experimental Theater of the Air, a weekly radio program.

The cabinet, elected last spring, included Jack Eddleman, president; Julie Ward, vice-president;

Forest Ralph, corresponding secretary; Shirley Barbour, recording secretary; Frank Morrow, treasurer; Nancy Wallace, historian; and Miss Isabelle Ronan, sponsor.

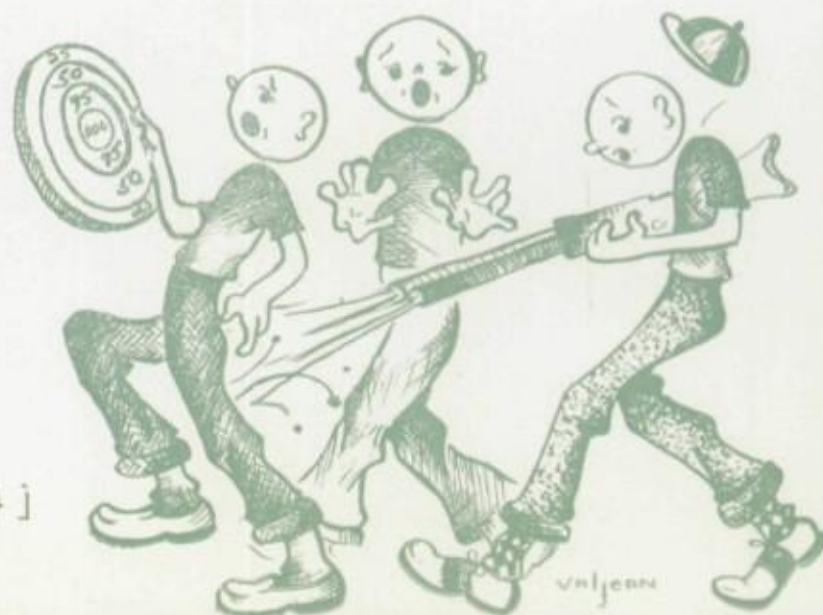

Ten new members were formally initiated in February. A one act play, The Pot Boilers, was presented.

During the year Thespians gave performances of one act plays for various civic clubs and Central class assemblies. Lectures were given by Miss Ronan and Mr. Albert Martin on stagecraft and make-up.

In the spring they presented an evening of Shakespeare, when scenes from several of his famous plays were dramatized.

At the end of the year Miss Ronan chose Jack Eddleman as the outstanding Thespian of the year.

Test Tube Experts

The Chemistry Club, under the guidance of Mr. George Hall, got off to a good start this year by adopting a new constitution. Following the club's policy of student management, the officers—Stanley Wells, president; Jan Arps, vice-president; Retha Gore, secretary; Philip Russell, treasurer; and Max Havlick, program chairman—planned and led the club's activities.

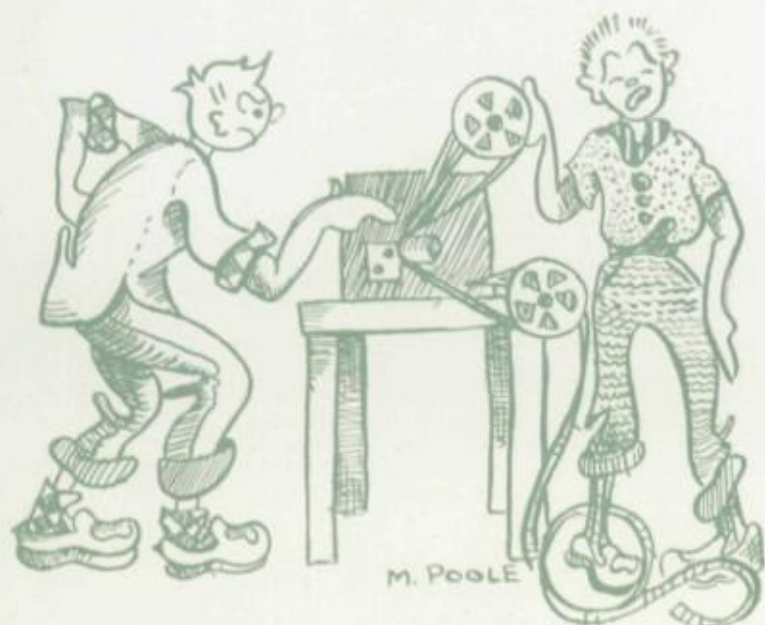

Not limiting their study to school, Chemistry Club members made field trips to the Carter and Stanolind laboratories, Bethlehem Steel, Dowell Incorporated, and the Thurston Chemical Company. Guest speakers were Mr. R. E. Fearon, physicist; Mr. Richard Mason, meteorologist; and Mr. Felix Vestal and Mr. Brutus Beall, Central science instructors.

Projects this year were individual, to be used as the basis for participation by members in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search, the Oklahoma University Science Fair, and the Oklahoma Academy of Science.

Taking time out from their educational pursuits, members relaxed at the annual Christmas party, held this year at Bill Winchester's home, and the club picnic at Mohawk.

City Historians

The Tulsa Historical Society under the guidance of a new sponsor, Mrs. Edith Daugherty, had many noteworthy projects and activities. Chief of these was the sale of postcards showing historic Tulsa scenes. Money from the sale of these cards was used for the erection of a historic monument in Tulsa during March. The society also took part in the observance of Tulsa's birthday, January 18.

During February the members presented authentic copies of the Oklahoma state seal to every school in Tulsa. Two members from the society went to each school to make the presentation and tell the students about the seal. Throughout the year members took many field trips to interesting museums and historic sites in Oklahoma City, Ramona, Skiatook, and Collinsville.

Each of the five community history classes forms a chapter of the society. Each chapter chooses its own officers and the entire society chooses cabinet officers. The cabinet officers were Delano Callison, president; Bob Davis, vice-president; Dale Covington, secretary; Kenneth Claxton, treasurer; and Sara Henry, senator.

The purpose of the society is to secure accurate information about Tulsa history and to call public attention to the need of suitable identification of Tulsa's historic sites. The society is also collecting appropriate material for a historical museum.

The Tulsa Historical Society's activities for the year were closed by a party and picnic on May 3.

Setter - Uppers

The members of the Stagecraft Club are the actors behind the scenes. Although they never appear in front of the curtain, these students take part in class plays, assemblies, the opera, and the annual all school Daze.

The club meets every morning during home room, but all of the work is done before or after school. Twenty hours of work are required as a probationary period. If a prospective member completes the twenty hours in good standing, he is voted into the club. One credit is given for 120 hours work before or after school.

Under the guidance of Mr. Albert Martin, stagecraft director, the Stagecraft Club builds scenery and creates lighting effects which can be equalled by few other schools throughout the country.

The Stagecraft Club is usually thought of as a boys' club, but this year there were two girls, Nanell Marshall and Harriett Shafer, to add the feminine touch to the sets.

The officers were Carl Welton, president; Jack Gilliam, secretary; Don Queen, scenery manager; Dan Edwards, property manager; and Roger Griffith, lighting manager.

The Stagecraft Club gives the boys a background of practical experience which several will use professionally and all will be able to use in their everyday life in the years to come.

Publicity Promoters

A discussion on forthcoming work, an interesting speaker, or presentation of new ideas about advertising were just a few of the many events which took place at the meetings held by the forty-three members of the Advertising Board each Tuesday morning in room 417.

Sponsoring the sale of activity budgets provided the board with immediate work at the first of the year. The Music Master, the first speech arts play of the year, was a great success.

When the Opera Club selected Rose Marie for their annual production, the Advertising Board helped to make it a sell-out. The second speech arts play was equally successful.

The Board opened its social activities with a Hallowe'en party in the home of Karol Davis and closed them with a picnic at Mohawk Park.

Officers for the year were James Hogle, president; Bill Kendall, vice-president; Mary Beth Taylor, secretary; and Jean Mayhew, treasurer. Mrs. Ethel Johnson and Miss Jackie Wright served as capable and efficient sponsors.

Sport-Minded Girls

To give Central girls activity outside their classroom participation and to develop a feeling of sportsmanship and teamwork, the Girls' Athletic Association was reorganized last spring under the sponsorship of Miss Millie Boone, Miss Louise Lovell, and Mrs. Gerry Ness, girls' physical education teachers.

During their after school meetings the girls enjoyed swimming, including senior life-saving, volleyball, basketball, softball, tennis, and modern dance. The club gave several parties throughout the year. On Hallowe'en they had a masquerade party, and at Christmas time the members filled a basket with food and delivered it to a needy family.

The organization chose for its officers Margaret Stroud, president; Pat Burrows, vice-president; Barbara Koder, secretary; and Alice Fisher, treasurer.

An award given in the form of a "C" to put on an athletic sweater may be earned under a point system on the basis of ability, participation, and sportsmanship.

As members of this organization the girls had to learn to give and take and to abide by the rules of good sportsmanship. They not only had fun and wholesome recreation but also became better persons and better citizens.

Tennessee Waltzers

"Grab your partner and swing her awhile." This and good old hoedown music could be heard in the Girl's North gym every Wednesday and Friday morning as the Square Dance Club practiced their dances.

The Square Dance Club is active both at school and outside of school. The members performed on assemblies, at the junior mixer, and at the Parent-Teacher Association Fun Night. They auditioned for a television talent show at K.O.T.V. and won an appearance. At the request of an adult square dance club in Collinsville, they gave an exhibition there.

The members learned not only square dances but also the new couple dances which have become so popular.

Nettie Kessler, the club's own caller, can hold her own with the professionals; and Mrs. Imagrays Matthews, girls' physical education secretary, plays real old-fashioned square dance music.

Officers of Square Dance Club were Bobby Tennison, president; Jo Ann Mack, vice-president; and Mary Joan Castillo, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Rachel Blackburn, physical education teacher and sponsor of the club, taught new dances, planned programs, and arranged appearances.

The Square Dance Club provided its members with many activities at Central and gave them enjoyable hours of that good old-fashioned entertainment, square-dancing.

BETA KEYSTONERS

Fun-Loving Seniors

"Will the meeting please come to order!" Each Monday evening at 7:30 Beta Keystoners met at the Y.M.C.A. for fellowship, work, and recreation.

The girls began their round of activities in September with the election of officers. Those who guided the club throughout the year were Geneva Hopkins, president; Nadine Goodrich, vice-president; Mary Lou Thompson, secretary; Betty Tarpley, treasurer; Joyce Mays, chaplain; and June Greenlee, inter-club council representative. Betty English was their adviser.

October held the annual Sophomore Mixer, which was sponsored by the junior and senior Keystoners and the sophomore class home room presidents. Nadine Goodrich was chairman of general arrangements.

In December the Beta girls served chili to members of the other Keystoner and Hi-Y clubs. The proceeds went for World Service.

At Run the City Day Betas certainly were in the race. Jessie Dyer was Boomer political party chairman, and Darlene Bonham was Sergeant of Communications.

The Tulsa clubs were hosts for 250 Oklahoma members of the Hi-Y Keystoner program in April.

Throughout the year many members were present at the canteen, which was held each Friday night at the Y.

Dances and parties, along with the regular meetings and activities, all helped to provide a well-balanced program for the Beta Keystoners, senior girls of 1951.

THETA PHI KEYSTONERS

Fancy-Free Juniors

Theta Phi Keystone Club, a Y.M.C.A. sponsored organization, is composed entirely of junior girls.

The meetings were held every Monday at 7:30 at the Y.M.C.A. building. Presiding over the group were Nancy Rice, president; Patsy Waybourn, vice-president; Harriett Shafer, secretary; and Jackie Nicholas, treasurer. Harriett Shafer was the song leader for joint activities.

At one time during the year the girls had a candy sale to raise funds for their various activities. The candy was made one Sunday at the home of their adviser, Mrs. Sylvia Squires, and sold the following Monday before and after their club meeting.

An annual event enjoyed by all was the Sweetheart Formal held in February. Harriett Shafer served as vice-chairman in charge of the dance.

Many members of Theta took part in the annual Easter sunrise service at Memorial Park. Donna Cowan, chairman of the costume committee, worked hard assembling the various costumes for the pageant.

Combining both work and play in their activities, the girls of Theta had a well-rounded program during their junior year at Central.

FOURTH ROW: Mary Lou Goss, Roberta McNabney, Dolores Woods, Nancy Riggs, Wanda Padgett, Louise Malloy, Geneie Andrews, Pat Lorrin.

Joy-Making Sophomores

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character" are the aims and the purpose of the Hi-Y Keystoner program, and this year the sophomore Keystoners certainly accomplished their goal.

Because of their large number, the sophomore girls were divided into three Keystoner clubs. Holding the gavel for each of the clubs were Libbie Davis, president of Omega; Beverly Stone, president of Zeta; and Nancy Riggs, president of Delta Dekka.

Perhaps the most important of all activities for the sophomore Keystoners was the Sophomore Mixer, which was held at the new Student Activities building on the Tulsa University campus in October. It was sponsored by the junior and senior Keystoners, who were assisted by the sophomore class home room presidents.

Following the tradition of Keystoner clubs, the girls collected clothing and filled baskets with food for needy families at Christmas.

Omega sponsored Davis and Pugh's incorporated production, Keep off the Grass, for World Service benefit.

In January Barbara Barnes of Zeta was elected Sooner political party chairman for the Run the City Day.

All in all Omega, Zeta, and Delta Dekka girls enjoyed their first year in the Hi-Y and Keystoner program. Now they are looking forward to their experiences as Keystoners when they become juniors and seniors.

SIGMA HI-Y

Workers for Democracy

Run-the-City-for-a-Day, an annual activity of the Hi-Y and Keystoner organizations, was one of the most enjoyable and interesting projects undertaken by the Sigmas this year. Kenneth Muncy was elected as his honor the mayor, with Jack Marston as fire and police commissioner, and Garland Sivers as street commissioner. The boys, officiating over 112 city employees, did a bang-up job and were highly praised by Mayor George Stoner.

The officers for Sigma Hi-Y included Don Gregory, president; Jack Marston, vice-president; Dan Blair, secretary; and Garland Sivers, treasurer. The canteen president was Bob Burns. Kenneth Muncy, as state president, represented Oklahoma at the national council meeting held at Lake Forest College, Illinois.

The inter-club council sponsored a Waist Dance in December to raise money for the World Service fund. Hi-Y and Keystoner clubs have pledged five hundred dollars to help build a boys' department at the YMCA in the Philippines.

The many activities of the club were climaxed by a period of camping immediately after school was out at the YMCA Camp.

Three Hi-Y members—Fred Davis, Donald Gregory, and Ray Ryan—file for office for Run-the-City-Day.

Teens of Our Times

Fellowship, service, and fun rank high on the high school girls' list of advantages to be derived from belonging to a Y-Teen Club. There were five clubs affiliated with Y.W.C.A.—Y-Teeners, Scuffies, Tawonka, Dianthus, and Sand Springs.

The members planned and carried out their own activities, a real experience in living in a democracy.

Many and varied were the club programs. Very popular were service projects, discussion groups, swimming and basketball, demonstrations on personal grooming by professionals, potluck suppers, picnics, camps, and dances.

Graduating seniors were entertained at a picnic supper by other members of high school Y.W.C.A. clubs. Early in May city busses transported these girls to Lake Parthenia, the site of the official camp of the local organization. Here hot dogs, salads, and all the trimmings were served. Dancing and games followed the supper.

One of the highlights of each year is the Oklahoma State Conference for high school Y-Teen delegates, held at Camp Parthenia in June.

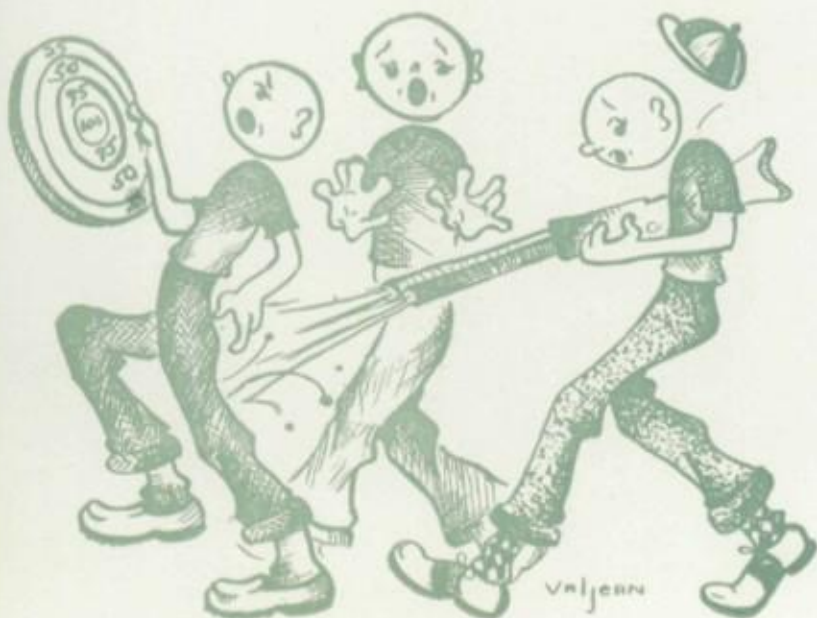

Youth, Inc., a Teen-town for senior high school students, recently celebrated its seventh birthday. With weekly attendance ranging from 150 to 300 this group has held its gatherings in the ballroom of the Y.W.C.A. since its organization. Here, too, dancing has proved to be the most popular activity.

Three of the five officers of the student council for Youth, Inc., for the past year were Centralites—Jerry Dunn, president; Dwain Tomberlin, vice-president; and Joan McCracken, treasurer. Miss Martha Prior was the adult adviser.

Program directors of the Teen-age Department of the Y.W.C.A. were Miss Mabel Messner and Miss Jerry Lawyer.

DISTRIBUTORS' CLUB

Persuasive Sellers

The Distributors' Club is a group of students enrolled in part time distributive education classes. They divide their day between attending school and working in retail stores. The object of the club is to develop leadership, to provide for the exploration of opportunities in the field of distribution, and to develop the moral, civic, and social responsibilities in the business world.

Sponsors of the club were Mrs. Loucillah Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Lorna Stenger. Al Gomez was president; Zeda McClure, vice-president;

Joyce Whitaker, secretary; and Billy Hill, treasurer. Under the leadership of James Hogle, editor, the D.E.C. News, a publication for those interested in distributive education, was published quarterly by the vocational printing classes.

During the year field trips were taken to Frankoma Pottery, to the Newspaper Publishing Company, and to the Commander Mills Manufacturing Company. In the lectures before the club Tulsa business men representing wholesale and retail firms gave helpful advice and suggestions.

TRADE AND INDUSTRIAL CLUB

Diversified Occupations

The purposes of the Trade and Industrial Club, a state organization, are many and varied—to encourage each boy to do his best work, to promote better relations between the worker and his employer, and to promote respect in each boy for his vocation.

The Trade and Industrial Club was sponsored by Mr. Raymond G. Johnson. He found a job suitable for each boy. There were thirty-six boys representing twenty-three different trades.

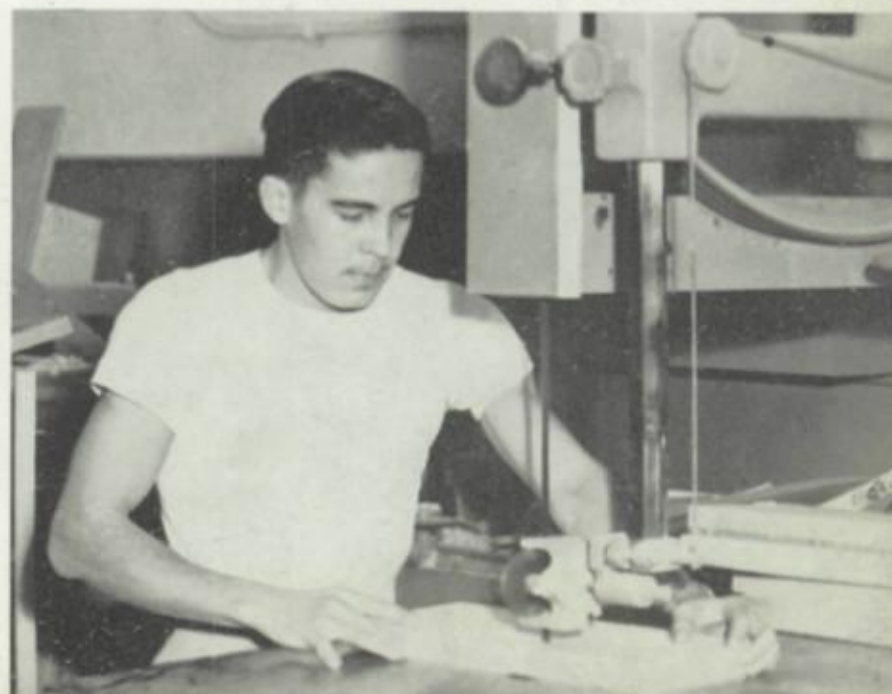

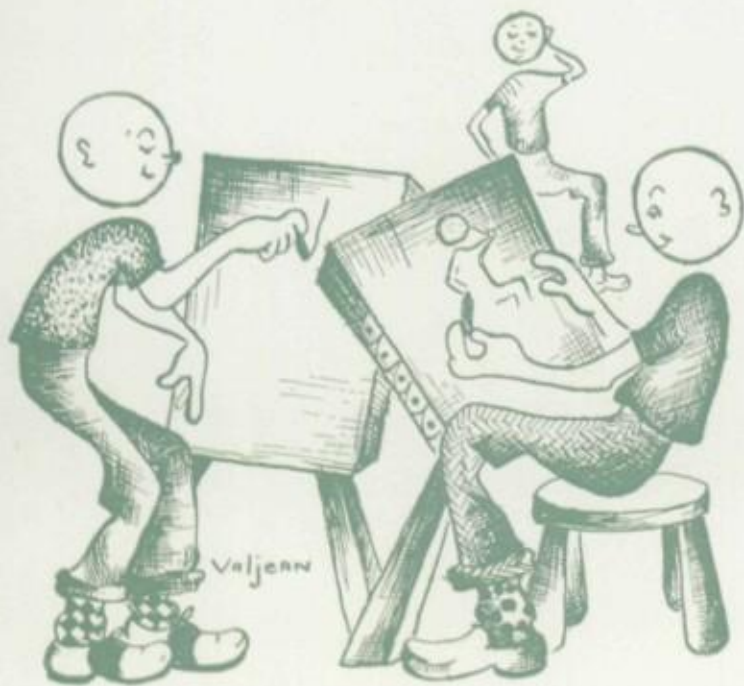

The officers were Ben McGuire, president; Russell McBroom, vice-president; Buel Avery, secretary; Woody Wilkens, treasurer; and Lent Ives, student council representative.

The class met twice a day, five times a week. They earned four credits a semester, three in school and one on their job. They studied health and safety, communication, transportation, human relations, civics, and economics, as well as material for their own jobs.

Last October they all went to Mr. Johnson's farm for a moonlight party. In January they met at the Wheel Roller Rink for a grand roller skating party.

Central is swell;
Of her we're fond.
I hope you're still well
After knowing Helen Bond.

Dear "Bobbie"
With your help
I think I have made it through spanish. It is too bad we weren't together in other classes.

Dear Barbara,
I have been so much fun being in your Spanish class. I know have wonderful you are and all the lovely things
you say about people.
That's the very best trait you could have. They are sweet as you are, and keep that precious voice.
Love of love,
